

Ed Prep NYC

A VILLAGE PATHWAY PROGRAM

An Alternative Teacher Pathway Program for New York Public Schools

Ed Prep NYC is a teacher career pathway program supported by NYC Men Teach. Its aim is to leverage the talent that already exists in New York City Public Schools by supporting staff members who have a passion and aspiration for education.

How does the program work?

Ed Prep NYC utilizes a cohort model to provide professional learning and resources for uncertified school-based staff, who seek an alternative route towards a teaching career.

University Partnerships

Ed Prep NYC partners with CUNY and private institutions to provide opportunities, for potential candidates, to attain a Trans B certification. Some of the programs offered are:

- TESOL
- Childhood 1-6 + Bilingual Certification
- 7-12 Students with Disabilities

Ed Prep NYC candidates will receive:

A Professional Learning Series that includes, but not limited to:

How to write an IEP, Designing Coherent Instruction, Culturally Responsive Education, Social Emotional Learning, Restorative Justice.

Additional Support: District/Building/Teacher leaders provide support and guidance utilizing the Danielson Framework as an evaluative tool.

Certification Exam Support: NYSTCE Test prep sessions and the potential for financial assistance.

Hiring Support: Resume help, application support, and demo lesson and interview practice.
