NYC Public Schools

NYC EXTENDED CERTIFICATION PROGRAMS

Extended Certification Programs

For the 2024-25 school year, New York City Public Schools is offering Extended Certification Programs, enabling qualified, current NYC Public Schools teachers to pursue a Students with Disabilities certification or a Bilingual Extension through the completion of graduate-level, tuition-free coursework. Accepted candidates will either enroll in a cohort through a partner college or university or will be a part of the NYC Specialized Teacher Enhancement Pathway's (NYC STEP) district-led certification program. After completing their certification program, participants commit to teaching in their new license area for the following two years.

By earning one of these additional licenses, teachers can:

- Increase their professional flexibility
- Gain the skills and training to serve some of their highest-need students more effectively
- Earn credits that count towards A+ and/or a salary differential
